- Hobbies & Intress: I am an artist in many mediums such as drawing and inovative design, painting, airbrushing, tattooist, sculpting, special effects... etc. I enjoy extrem sporting such as surfing, skate, motor bikes, snowboarding, outdoors... etc. I love to read and study as in novels by David Baldacci, Jeffery Deaver... etc. One kind of sci fi Star Wars by Timothy Zhan. I also enjoy to read behavioral pshcology as in Art of war, Art of seduction, laws of power... etc. I also get into the dummies series for introduction into a subject... and I am into all broad types of research and Technology break throughs, developments in science. News paper/news and current events. Wild Nature... I love to star gaze. I work out a couple of hours a day. I do enjoy to feel and engulf myself in romance with a sensible woman, and find points and views that can be shared in conversation. I am genuine in all expressed instances as to how I would feel found towards a person.

• Thank you for checking out my contact site. I do hope I am some-what of an intress to you and intrigued to respond personally. And I hope all is well for you as you read. I'll start with what I am doing currently in jail...

• Currently: Its hard to stand being in jail... it sucks very much. You can look up my case status online for details. I've been down for a little over a year not to see the sun... I hate that I've lost my bronzy skin tone. Baically I'm in for identity impersonation, fraud access account, and massive purchasing from stores... so alegidly. Out of all charges, the one that is most tricky is the identity charge. My case is petty... in a sense, but since there is some rummors and hearsay of me being more than my charges. I am being treated very harshly... meaning a person with my charges would normally have time served on probation... non-violent offence watch'em closely. From hearsay & rummors... I'm sought as a 'account hacker' that rubbs shoulders with 'influential criminal people'... and no new charges. So the D.A. wants the max on the C.D. of three years... and wants to double it up with more unfiled pettier charges. I have been in since June 07, 08 for a total of 18 months credit as is. Looking at a possible six years. Not on parole or probation as well. I rather just continue with my case with any delays to another or about a year, if I would have to and get the credit for time served on the max. I got more leverage too. Ehhh... we'll see, either way

Im out soon enough. The D.A. put holds on my bonds and I got one bond active... Im going to work on the holds being illegally gained funds and I got proff that there not. Heahhh... !!, my lawyer... well, his efforts is too little and I paid for his representation and is not effiecient with the task I ask to carry out. I'll make a decition on this with my lawyer. Im currently just after bail review on readiness for prelim in court proceedings for a year now. I'll move ahead with writing about myself. The good stuff...

• About me : Im not a bad person to know and Im absolutely sure you would enjoy and love my creative, humorous, and insightful personality. First Know : relationship wise, I am die hard loyal and efficient to my lady in a relationship, and like the same in return. Soulfriendships are gaurded and respected well, and bounderies with that are maintained... I would not have'em anyother way. I am very mature, well timed, and wise ; yet soulful and playful to have a good time with you. Romance... Im a hot blood romantic as well, and you'll love to feel that out as it is drawn out by how I feel to be genuine in expression. You'll love to unravel the layers of my being, a great man. I do have a cause in life, and a destiny...

Ive always been very active in social settings to be very out going. I grew up in California San Diego surfing and involved in extrem sporting since I figured out the excitment of the gameing. Surfing is my passion... being out in the salty water tearing up the water... even in a storm. I view myself to be an exciting water creature.

◦ There was a point: in my life where I was risky and on edge... and what I mean to say is a life style that would be best described like in a movie... is 'Point Break'... literally, but with much more sophistication. Bad boy I know... That's behind me... I have moved on from that or anything that would get me into any more trouble seriously. I am not gang affiliated...

◦ I love to workout: ... I do have a personal workout regimen that's personal you could say. I do it for my health and physical performance for a couple of hours a day. I'm very healthy, and have a very youthful appearance to look like I'm in my mid twenties. I will always be like this... it's part of my internal code. I am HIV negative, and disease negative... even as common as it could be, I am proud about that even though I don't get around as a manwhore.

◦ My natural talent: ... an artist. A master in art... I am extraordinary when it comes to drawing and innovative design. I paint and sculpt... I enjoy to air brush on all surfaces. I'm into theatrical and special effects. I've been drawn to a certain medium in art... a tattoo artist. And very professional and artful to lay exquisite realistic skin art. I am a pleasure to be around and you'll love my artistic talent. Invent and reinvent design.

◦ Further leisure : I'm into reading... Studying a subject of interest. I've got a great thirst to soak up academic knowledge. I set personal goals and take the necessary steps to have an achievable outcome. The book worm of me does not take up the time of social / friendship interaction with a person. However... my studies are on standby to actively fill in time productively. I am very easy going, and very reliable. As in, I am very determined die hard when it comes to show my loyalty... especially for my lady. I am highly intelligent and very insightful, humorous, and passionate. I am very masculine and well defined as a person to get along with just about anybody. You'll know I'm an alpha male yet not an overbearing block head. It's a pleasure to tenderly watch over my lady when I'm involved in a relationship, and go to great extremes which is personal. I do not force or overbear to keep a relationship if it's time to separate or give space. I do not cheat, nor do I support this disruptive and hurtful act on a relationship. Hi school grad... and college courses in computer systems and refurbish.

◦ I do not use drugs : or smoke. I do not mind an occasional light drug user "occasional", or a very light smoker. I do appreciate that you adhere to my advisement when maybe you use excessively... your health and state of mind is most important. I do not mind a light social alcohol drinker. I myself enjoy about three-twenty two oz. of a pale lager, or
